Ward Charcoal Ovens State Historic Park

Located just south of Ely, these impressive beehive-shaped ovens were built in the late 1800s and were once used to produce charcoal for the mining industry .

Today, they stand as a testament to Nevada's rich history and offer visitors a glimpse into the past.

While you're there, enjoy hiking , camping , and wildlife viewing in the surrounding area.

Success Loop

The next time you're in Ely, check out Success Loop! Generally accessible from snowmelt to snowfall (late April to mid-November) this 38-mile loop is one of Nevada's prettiest, offering motorists panoramic views of craggy mountains, rugged canyons, and forested highlands. In warmer weather, wildflowers are in full bloom. In the fall, Aspen stands turn golden. Caution is encouraged in spring when mud can lead to stuck vehicles and deep ruts that hamper travel later in the year. When dry, the dirt road is accessible by car, but a high-clearance vehicle is suggested.

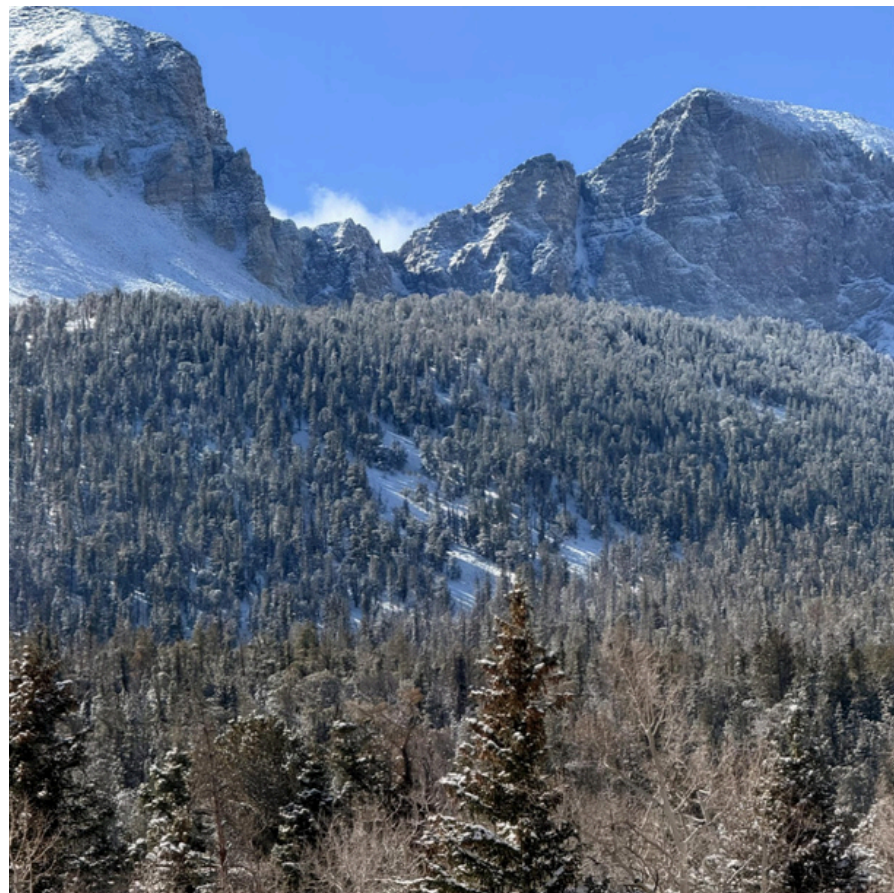

Great Basin National Park

From the 13,063-foot summit of Wheeler Peak to the sagebrush-covered foothills, Great Basin National Park hosts a sample of the incredible diversity of the larger Great Basin region. Come and partake of the solitude of the wilderness, walk among ancient bristlecone pines, bask in the darkest of night skies, and explore mysterious subterranean passages. There's a lot more than just desert here. <https://www.nps.gov/grba/index.htm>

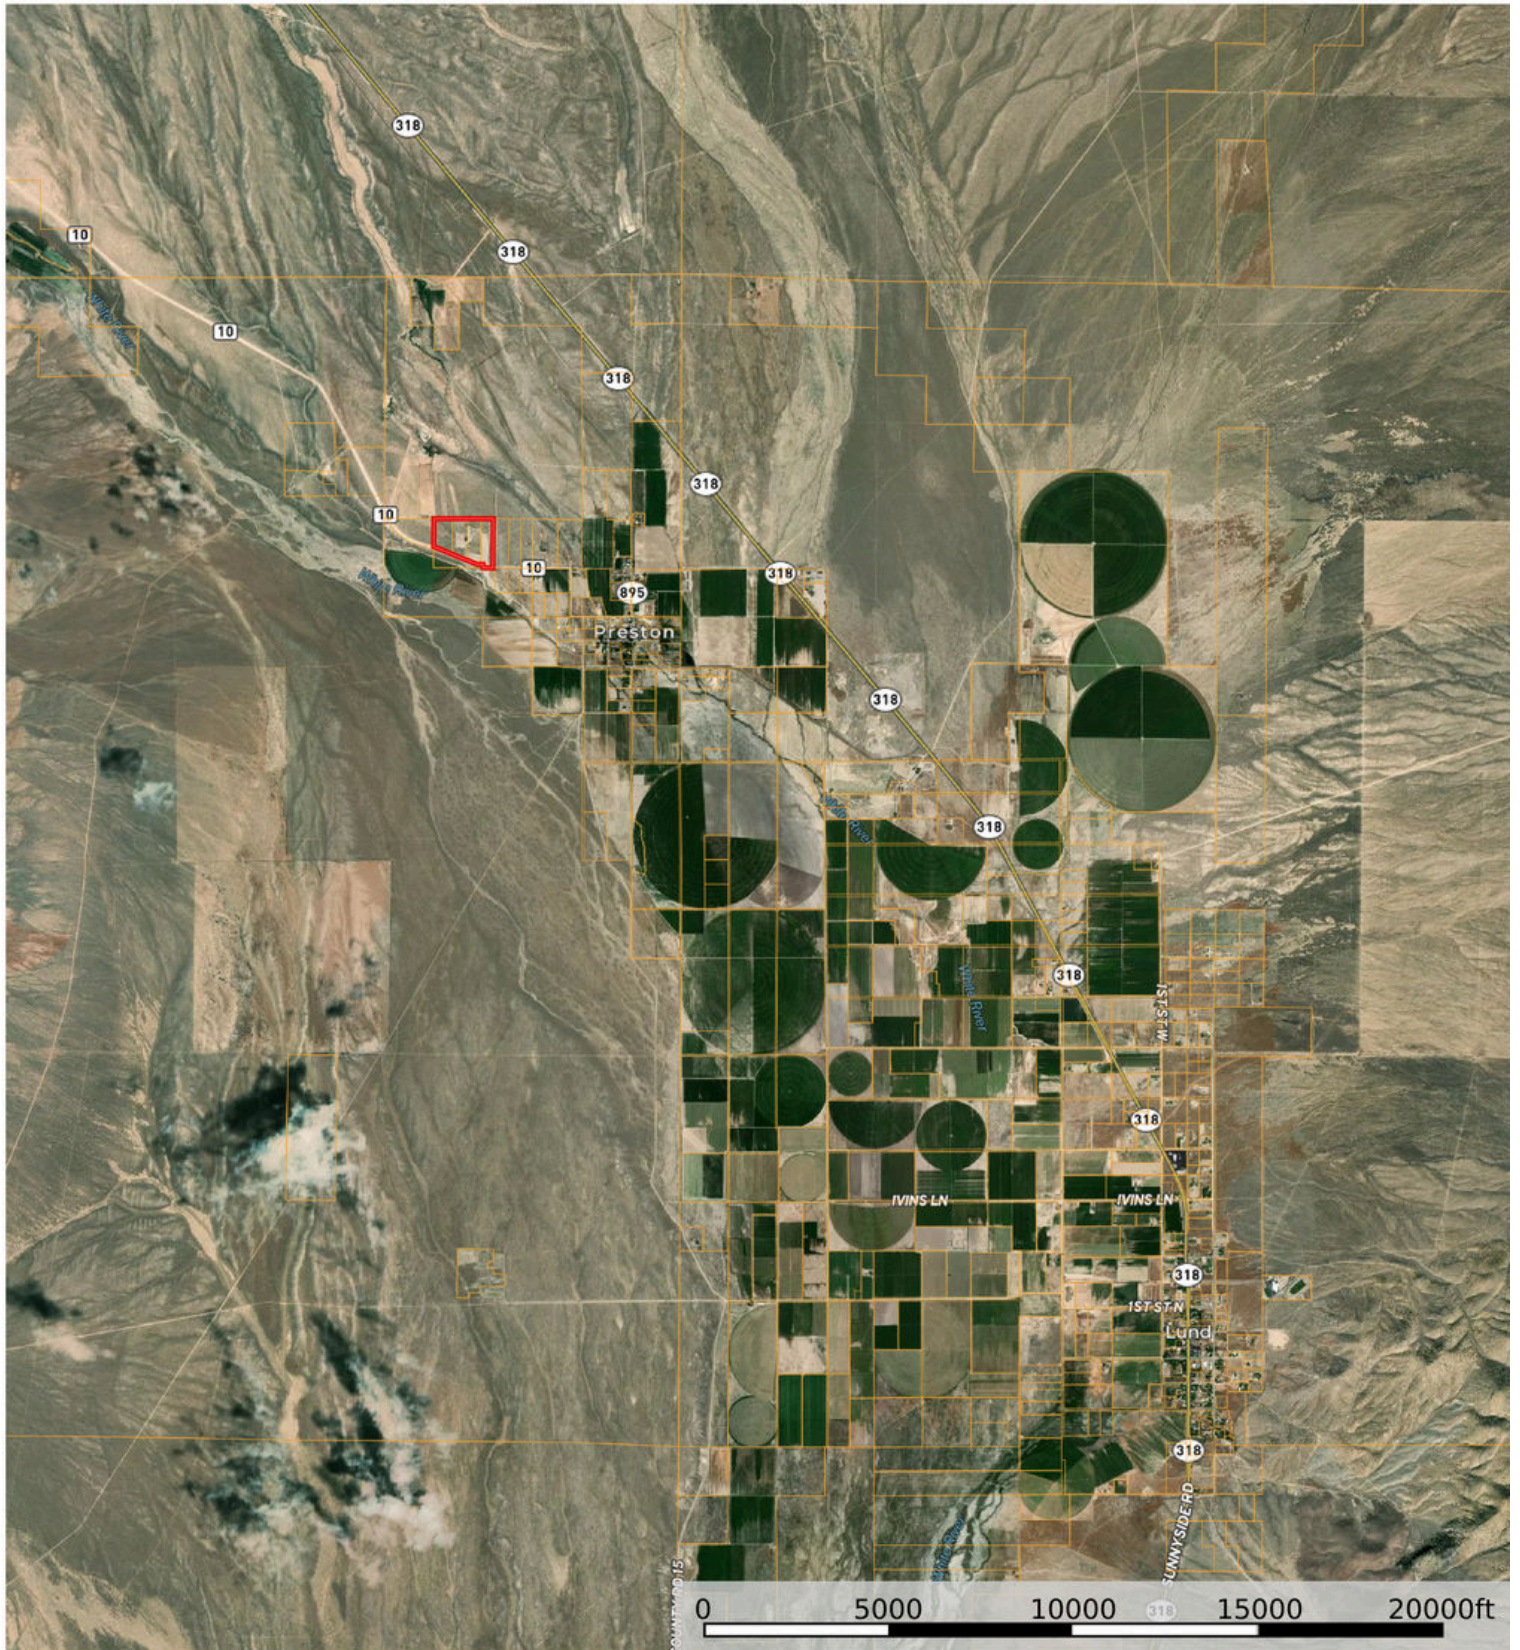

There are three species of bristlecone pine. All are long-lived and highly resilient to harsh weather and bad soils. One of the three species, Pinus longaeva, is among the longest-lived life forms on Earth.

Lehman Caves is the longest cave system in the state of Nevada. Tours have been entering the cave since 1885

Wheeler Peak is the tallest mountain in the Snake Range and in White Pine County. The summit elevation of 13,065 feet makes it the second-highest peak in Nevada, just behind Boundary Peak. It was named for George Wheeler, leader of the Wheeler Survey of the late 19th century.
